PROPOSALS OF THE GERMANS

Reach London Through Some Unknown Channel.

CUSTOMS REVENUES PLEDGED TO ALLIES

German Products Are Also To Be Delivered.

Germany Agrees To Pay 200,000,000,000 Gold Marks, It Is Stated by Those Close to the Government.

London, April 26.—Belief was expressed in foreign office circles, today, that the latest German indemnity proposals, which were sent from Berlin to Washington, are sufficiently acceptable to warrant the [illegible] consideration when the [illegible] supreme council meets in [illegible] Saturday.

This belief was apparently based upon a brief summary of the Germany note received in London from Berlin. How the summary came and its detailed nature were not revealed.

The contents of the German note to the United States is expected to be received from the British embassy at Washington within twenty-four hours. This will give the British government an opportunity to study the proposals at length before the supreme council meets. Furthermore, it will enable Premier Lloyd George to communicate informally with Premier Briand upon the subject before Saturday.

German Proposal.

Berlin, April 26.—The ultimate total indemnity which Germany agrees to pay the allies is [illegible] gold marks, as against $26,000,000,000 demanded by the allies in their Paris terms. This is positively stated by those close to the government, although the German counter-proposals have not been made public here.

Dr. Simons, the foreign secretary, did not present the new proposals to the reichstag, because of an understanding with the American embassy and for the additional reason that there is a paragraph in the note to President Harding suggesting that he feel free to query back for further information or the elucidation of any point not clear, if he so desired, before submitting the note to the [illegible].

The Germans suggest making the annuities in the payment of the reparations flexible, dependent upon the recovery of German industries. An international loan is suggested, to be floated immediately for the purpose of placing ready cash at the disposal of the entente, but no sum is named.

Germany expresses her willingness to pledge the customs revenues as guarantees and further offers to deliver manufactured articles to the allies with the understanding that Germany will pay the producers and get credit on the indemnities. Germany also offers immediate participation in the work of restoration in the devastated areas; labor and materials to be supplied by Germany and credited against the indemnities.

No suggestion is made of Germany's willingness to assume the indebtedness of the allied powers to the United States. Germany's counter-proposals are so intricate and involved that the experts who have read them express the opinion that they may be misinterpreted.

YOUNG WOMAN IN A SERIOUS CONDITION

Picked Up by Auto Party Near Covington, Kentucky.

Covington, Kentucky, April 26.—A young woman giving her name as "Anorma Anway," twenty-two, Pasadena, California, is in the woman's detective headquarters, today, suffering from lack of food and exposure. She was picked up at the foot of a hill in Fort Mitchell last night, by autoists.

The young woman claims to have run away from the home of her wealthy stepfather, near Pasadena, after being forced into an unhappy marriage. She had been living in Dayton, Ohio, for some time, but recently come to Cincinnati in search of work.

THREE HUNDRED ARE BORN AT SEA

Ohio Total Foreign-Born Population Is Announced.

Washington, April 26.—The census bureau reports that 294 residents of Ohio were born at sea. Germans compose nearly one-third of Ohio's total foreign born population according to the announcement. In the state of Ohio the report says there are 678,647 foreign born whites and of these 111,00[illegible] were born in Germany. Of the remainder 43,134 were born in England, 12,147 in Scotland, [illegible] in Ireland, 4,659 in France, [illegible] in Holland, 47,974 in Austria, [illegible] in Hungary, 41,85[illegible] in Czecho-Slovakia, 30,355 in Jugo-Slavia, [illegible] in Russia, 60,[illegible] in Italy, [illegible] in Greece, 17,047 in Roumania, 24,371 in Canada and 311 in Mexico.

WANTED IN TOLEDO: SUSPECT SHOOTS SELF

Shooting Follows Leap from a Hotel Window.

Omaha, [illegible] April 26.—Frank Seward, wanted in Toledo in connection with the murder of two detectives, is in a serious condition at a local hospital suffering from bullet wounds self-inflicted after he leaped from the fourth floor of a hotel in an attempt to evade arrest. Two women, one of whom says she is Seward's wife, and a man whose name police say is Harry Sawyer, are being held at the police headquarters at request of Toledo authorities. Seward has two bullet wounds in his chest and his right leg is broken in three places. Seward denied he was guilty, declaring that Arthur Foley, who is serving a sentence in the Ohio penitentiary for the killing of the detective, had "framed" him.

SHOULD FINISH NAVAL PROGRAM

Representative Kelley Favors Being Well Prepared.

WOULD THEN DISCUSS WORLD DISARMAMENT

Democratic Senators Line Up Against Knox Peace Resolution—A Battle Coming.

Washington, April 26.—Discussion of the disarmament question absorbed consideration of the naval appropriation bill in the house when Representative Kelley brought forward the committee proposals to provide $396,000,000 for the navy's next fiscal year, of which $90,000,000 would be used toward completion of the 1916 building program. The expansion program, Mr. Kelley asserted, would help "to lift the load now on the shoulders of the world for armament construction and maintenance."

"When these ships we are building have been completed," he said, "the United States will equal in sea power any nation in the world, and will be in a position to offer proportionate reduction in armament."

Representative Burton supported the committee spokesman in his declaration for an adequate navy and also urged that there be the nucleus of a large army for the United States. He declared, however, that the "time has come for an international conference for the sake of stopping this maddening competition for the construction of armadas."

Peace Resolutions Up.

A meeting was held today between Senator Underwood, Democratic leader, and minority members of the foreign relations committee, with a few other prominent Democratic senators, to discuss a course of procedure with respect to the Knox peace resolution now before the senate.

Action was taken similar to that with regard to the first Knox resolution, which was vetoed by Former President Wilson. The resolution at that time was opposed by a majority of the Democrats.

That senate debate would consume only a few days was predicted by both Republican and Democratic leaders. A final vote late this week was regarded as possible.

The final draft of the Knox resolution differed little from Senator Knox's original measure. It would repeal the resolutions declaring a state of war with Germany and Austria, reserve all American rights and privileges under the treaties of Versailles and Trianon, and hold, subject to future disposition, the property of enemy aliens.

As distinguished from the senate measure, the Porter resolutions introduced in the house would declare the state of war at an end, but without repeal of the war resolutions. Representative Porter explained that it was "unnecessary and perhaps unwise" to repeal the war resolutions because such action "might be construed as a disavowal of the war."

HELD FOR PROBE IN MURDER CASE

Two Columbus Negroes Taken into Custody.

Columbus, April 26.—Suspected of murder, George Hayes, alias George Jeaney, and Pat Watts, alias Pat Jeaney, both colored, were arrested today. They are suspected of shooting to death Samuel Heid, well-known local cafe proprietor, a week ago and of holding up W. E. Kershner of East Broad street, two days ago, stealing his automobile and compelling him to drive them into the country where after making him get out they disappeared with his automobile. Kershner is well known in teaching circles throughout Ohio.

NOTED INVENTOR DISCOVERS A FLUID THAT GOES UP HILL

Fred A. Howard, the noted chemist and scientist of Boston, has discovered a fluid which he [illegible] will run up hill. Korite, the name he has given the fluid, is of so fine a consistency that it acts physically upon particles invisible to the naked eye. Thorough tests with leather have proven that Korite, by permeating and preserving the fibres [illegible] leather, doubles the [illegible] power of ordinary shoe leather and makes it pliable and waterproof. Korite is the third important discovery Mr. Howard has made, and the textile and leather trades claim that his trio of finds means millions of dollars saved to the consumer. In the upper photo he is shown demonstrating his fire-proofing solution. The lower photo shows the inventor [illegible] of Korite, the leather life-saver, in his laboratory.

A LONG SESSION OF THE CABINET

German Reparation Note Is Given Attention.

MEMBERS SILENT ABOUT DISCUSSION

State Department Also Silent Touchng Communication from Germany.

Washington, April 26.—President Harding and his cabinet held an unusually long session, today, with all the members present, and it is understood that the German reparations note was considered at some length.

Whether any definite policy or line of action was decided upon was not disclosed. Members of the cabinet declined to comment on the situation and the president, in his bi-weekly conference with newspaper correspondents, did not discuss the matter in any respect.

The cabinet met promptly at the usual hour of 11 o'clock. It was long past 1 when the first member, Vice President Coolidge, emerged from the conference room.

The state department was equally uncommunicative today, regarding the situation. Beyond admitting that the note had been received during the night in fragmentary form, and that it was "under consideration," officials maintained silence. It was stated that the note might be made public later in the day, but there was no intimation forthcoming as to its contents or the probable course of action by this government.

IN COMMON PLEAS

Answer and Cross-Petition.

The answer and cross-petition of William T. Jones was filed today in the common pleas court in the foreclosure suit of the Home Building Savings & Loan company against William Lemley and others. The answer [illegible] through Hoke Donithen.

The answering defendant stated that November 14, 1913 William and Grace Lemley executed a note to him for [illegible] secured by a mortgage on Lot No. [illegible] in Oakland [illegible] addition to Marion and there is due on the note [illegible]. Bank Sets $431.59 Claim.

The Marion Savings bank, through Hoke Donithen, today filed in the common pleas court its answer and cross-petition in the foreclosure suit of William M. Rhoads and Thomas J. Harper against Elmer L. Harper and others.

The answer states that July 22, 1919 Elmer L. Harper and his wife executed and delivered to the answering defendant a note for $425, secured by a mortgage on the property in question. It sets up that $431.59 is now due on the note, asks foreclosure of the mortgage and it be first paid from the proceeds of the sale and also that it recover a personal judgment for $431.59.

Her Wrongs Imaginary?

Alleging that the plaintiff has no just cause for complaint and the wrongs, if any, she suffers are imaginary, John Seeds, through Attorney H. E. Hill, this morning filed his answer in the common pleas court in the divorce suit filed against him by Maude Seeds.

The defendant admits he is the owner of several automobile trucks and a residence property at No. 319 Edgewood drive, but states they are heavily encumbered. He also admits ownership of ninety acres of land in Pickaway county, which he claims are subject to the dower interest of his mother and a mortgage. A general denial of the other allegations is set up, "most emphatically that he refused and neglected to support his family, but always indulged them beyond his means." He asks dismissal of the petition.

Verdict for Defendant.

A verdict for the defendant was returned by a jury in the common pleas court Monday afternoon in the $10,000 damage suit of Daisy Hofstetter against Harley Shuey. The jury was out only about fifteen minutes and returned its verdict at 3:59 o'clock.

The suit was the outgrowth of an automobile accident September 3, 1920, at State and Quarry streets when the defendant's automobile struck the plaintiff.

EARL STAFFORD IS STABBED WITH ICE PICK AT AKRON

Marion Man Taken to Hospital. Condition Serious.

A special to this morning's Cleveland Plain Dealer from Akron will be of special interest to the many friends of Earl Stafford of this city, and who visited his folks here last week. The special follows:

Earl Stafford, No. 222 Mills avenue, is in the Peoples hospital in a serious condition suffering from an ice pick stab wound in the left side. The ice pick narrowly missed his heart, hospital physicians say. According to police, Stafford was stabbed by a man while the men were unloading bananas at the E. H. Weiner company warehouse, late this afternoon. No reason for the stabbing is known. The man escaped following the assault.

BAN JOHNSON AT PENNANT RAISING

Will Leave for Washington To Look After Prosecutions.

Cleveland, April 26.—President Ban B. Johnson of the American league, here for the pennant raising ceremony, this afternoon, announced that he would leave for Washington immediately after the game, to arrange for the extradition of several men wanted in connection with the 1919 baseball scandal.

Hearty cooperation of federal officials is expected by the American league chief, especially in view of the fact that President Harding is himself an ardent fan.

Some of the men are said to have taken refuge in Canada and Mexico.

GOVERMENT TO PUBLISH LISTS

Will Give Consumers Guide to Fair Prices.

SECRETARY HOOVER OUTLINES PLANS

Consumers Are in Many Instances Paying Prices Equal to War Inflations.

Washington, April 26.—Fair-price lists will be published by the government as a consumers' guide on the cost of commodities. The commerce department is giving serious consideration to the plan, in connection with the work of reorganizing the federal bureau on statistics, Secretary Hoover said today.

"Retail prices on manufactured articles are unreasonably high in many lines," said Secretary Hoover. "Wholesale prices show deep cuts, but the consumer is a long way from getting the benefit of corresponding reductions."

Secretary Hoover cited woolen mills as a sample from lengthy lists on which consumers still are being forced to pay large profits.

"Reductions made by dealers," said Hoover, "are upon a narrow margin and the prices in many directions will enable dealers to make even more than it was possible during the war inflations."

The government seeks in no way to interfere with the normal processes of business, Hoover said. What it does contemplate, however, is the matter of an accurate determination of manufacturing costs, for the full benefit of the public and with such wide publication that small buyers can purchase with an intelligent idea of what reasonable prices should be.

INDUSTRIAL WORKERS TAKEN TO PRISON

Officals Expect Haywod To Return to United States.

Chicago, April 26.—Ten members of the I. W. W., leaderless in the absence of William D. Haywood, departed for the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., to complete their sentences for obstructing the nation's war work.

They were the Chicago contingent of the 47 industrial workers who recently had been denied a new trial by the United States supreme court and who were ordered back to prison for terms varying from five to 20 years, after having been at liberty on bonds.

Haywood, who disappeared about a month ago, and who has been reported as seeking Bolshevik aid in Russia, because of his failure to report on time will be branded as a fugitive. "We have reports that he is now in Russia, but will notify us by cablegram of his willingness to return within the next few days," said one official.

DRY ENFORCEMENT MACHINERY CHANGE

Present Methods To Be Abandoned Under New Measure.

Washington, April 26.—Virtual abandonment of the present prohibition enforcement machinery and the transfer of its functions to the department of justice, is authorized in a bill introduced in the house, today, by Representative Hill, of Maryland. He announced that he would try to get his bill before the judiciary committee at the same time. Representative Volstead's latest amendment, prohibiting beer and wine as medicine, is taken up by that body.

PRESIDENT IS MADE HONORARY PRESIDENT OF HORSESHOERS

The honorary presidency of the National Horseshoe Pitchers' association of the United States has been accepted by President Harding and a delegation from the Buckeye Horseshoe Pitching association of Ohio presented the president with a set of silver horseshoes properly engraved. The president has a distinct fondness for this old fashioned sport and frequently indulged in the game in Marion during the latter part of the campaign. The photo shows Brigadier General H. M. BRITISH WAR DEBT TO BE TAKEN UP

Mellon Predicts Resumption of Negotiatons.

Washington, April 26.—Secretary of Treasury Mellon announced that negotiations with Great Britain for the funding of her [illegible] war debt to the United States will be resumed soon.

The secretary said he did not know just when the negotiations would begin, but that invitations probably would be sent from the state department shortly for Great Britain to send representatives to this country for that purpose.

Negotiations for the funding of the British debt into long-time obligations, the secretary explained, were halted by the change in administrations. Funding conferences with Great Britain, the secretary continued, probably will be followed by separate meetings with the other allied debtors.

In connection with suggestions made some time ago of possible cancellations of allied debts, the secretary said that cancellation of the war debts was "the next thing to inconceivable," and never had been suggested by either this country or its debtors.

MANY WANT TO BE PROHIBITION CHIEF

Everybody Is After the Job. Says Mellon Today.

Washington, April 26.—Another [illegible] race is for the job of prohibition chief.

"Everybody wants the job, apparently," Secretary of the Treasury Mellon said, today.

The job of dry law chief will not be settled until David S. Blair, newly appointed internal revenue commissioner, takes office.

Pennsylvania, New York, Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky have candidates for the post, the treasury department disclosed.

CAN'T LEGISLATE AGAINST BRAINS

Lament of Prohibition Commissioner Kramer.

Washington, April 26.—"You can't legislate against brains."

This was the ailment, today, of Prohibition Commissioner Kramer.

He explained that the flow of booze is due to the varied artifices of man.

Kramer's reports show that corn liquor is pouring forth in rural districts in large amounts.

EMPLOYMENT IS PROMISE

Award Given Garment Work in Cleveland.

MINIMUM OF FORTY WEEKS IN EACH YEA

Principle of Guaranteed Emp ment Is New in American In dustrial History.

Cleveland, April 26.—[illegible] of workless days [illegible] members of the Cleveland Garment Workers' union and [illegible] the Cleveland ladies' garment [illegible] facturers. Under the terms [illegible] arbitral award, just made [illegible] each regular employe is guaranteed a minimum of forty weeks [illegible] each year.

The award was at this [illegible] by the garment manufacturers [illegible] its acceptance, next Tuesday [illegible] by the garment makers [illegible] predicted by union leaders. It [illegible] become effective next Monday, [illegible] the present scale expires, but all [illegible] ployes are to remain at work [illegible] the union has acted.

The principle is without precedent in any industry in the United States, but garment manufacturers here and their organized emp have formed the habit of mak precedents.

Another feature of the award a provision that regular employ shall, during periods of unemployment, receive two-thirds of the regular weekly wage and be given one week's vacation on full each year.

Wage Reduction.

Heretofore, in other agreements reached between employes and manufacturers, the principle "efficiency," usually fought bitter by labor unions, has been accep and the garment workers hav adopted plans for increasing the product suggested by efficiency e perts.

With the award goes a reducti in pay on the wage scale of Ju 1919, the new rates meaning r ductions in the pay envelopes from 9 1-2 to 12 1-2 per cent.

Under the provisions of t award, the business of garme manufacturing, which is a seaso occupation, is divided into two p iods of six months each and twe weeks' employment is guarantee workers in each six months peri

In order to assure the payme of the sums assured to nonemploye workers, the manufacturers are r quired to establish a fund out o which the sum guaranteed sha paid. As an incentive to manufa turers to furnish regular employ ment, it is provided that any mone remaining in the fund shall be r turned to the firm at the end of th season.

FIVE SYSTEMS OF RAILWAYS FAVORED

Stockholder Gives His View of Rail Operation.

Washington, April 26.—A plan to consolidate all of the railroads of the country into five great transcontinental systems was filed with the interstate commerce commission by Fred Brown Whitney of Waukegan, Ill., as a citizen of the United States and a stockholder in various railroads.

Mr. Whitney expressed strong opposition to regional consolidations, declaring such a plan seemed natural for the few roads most fortunately situated, but that it did not "seem to be the preferable method for marshaling the country's resources to hold our foreign trade and it hardly squares with the wholesome national spirit with which the people and congress attempted to provide adequate relief for all the roads within the United States."

SEVERAL ARE INJURED WHEN AUTOS COLLIDE

Miss Gladys Miers Is Hurt About Chest.

FATHER AND MOTHER SUFFER MINOR INJURIES

Miers Machine Plunges into a Telephone Pole and Runs into Ditch.

Two automobiles driven by G. F. Miers, north of Marion, and William M. Phelps, of Patton street, collided on the Upper Sandusky pike four miles north of Marion Monday evening about 7:30 o'clock and the Miers machine was badly damaged. Miss Gladys Miers, daughter of G. G. Miers, sustained an injury to her chest by being thrown against the back of the front seat of the car.

Mr. Miers was driving south on the road and with him were his wife, two daughters, three sons and a ... Mr. Phelps was ... north.

Front Wheels Splintered.

In some manner the machines collided so that one of the front wheels of the Miers car was splintered after which Mr. Miers was unable to control the machine and it ran into the ditch and collided with a telephone pole, breaking off the pole at the ground.

Mr. Miers was thrown against the steering wheel by the impact and Mrs. Miers's hands were cut by flying glass. Others in the car were bruised. Mrs. Miers was brought to Marion to a doctor and it is not thought that her injuries are serious. Mr. Phelps escaped injury and his car was not damaged.

BANK BURGLAR ALARM DRAWS LATE CROWD

It "Lets Go" About 11 O'Clock Last Night.

Here's another mystery.

Screeching of the siren burglar Marion Savings bank Monday night about 11 o'clock attracted a large number of people to the bank from various parts of the business portion of the town.

A new burglar-alarm system, consisting of an electrically-operated siren similar to those on large fire trucks, was installed yesterday.

No one was in the bank at the time the burglar alarm "went off" and no explanation of what caused it was forthcoming at the bank today.

A bank employe heard the siren and shut off the alarm after it had sounded several minutes.

A building permit was issued Monday to William Jacobs for a residence on Windsor street at an estimated cost of $2,500.

RIDES WING OF AEROPLANE AS IT PASSES OVER CITY

Man Evidently Fixes Something as Plane Sails on.

An aeroplane of enormous size passed over the city shortly before noon today. It was headed southwest.

There is no longer news in the fact that an aeroplane skims over the city.

But today it was something different. Something was wrong with the plane. Just as it reached the center of the town a man crawled out on one of the huge wings. He could scarcely be detected with the naked eye although the plane was not at a high altitude. People with field glasses said that the man walked out on the wing, adjusted something or other and returned to his seat.

There was no landing.

Wideman's court this morning and was fined $10 and costs. The fine was suspended on condition that he stay off trains. Tipton paid the costs. The arrest was made by J. F. Gilson, a Pennsylvania railroad policeman.

No Bids for Bonds.—Not a bid was received up to Monday noon, for the $104,875 bond issue to extend the time of payment of indebtedness for street improvements, the bonds to have been sold by the finance committee of council at that time. The bonds bear interest at the rate of six per cent., the last being due and payable September 1, 1932. An effort will be made to sell the bonds at private sale.

Big Class Initiation.—The members of the Catholic Ladies of Columbia held a called meeting in the Knights of Columbus hall Monday evening, when final arrangements were made for the initiation of a class of thirty candidates, May 15, at 2:30 o'clock in the Knights of Columbus hall. Arrangements were also made for the members of the degree team to go to Newark, June 12, when a large class will be initiated.

Pleads Not Guilty.—Oran Carter, Chillicothe entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned in Justice Ernest G. Wideman's court Monday afternoon on a statutory charge preferred against him by Lillie Edith Kramer, of north Main street. Carter gave bond in the sum of $300 for his appearance for a hearing in Justice Wideman's court on the afternoon of May 5 at 2 o'clock. He was arrested and brought to Marion Saturday by Constable J. F. Crawmer.

Daughters of Veterans.—Mrs. Dail Montgomery, Mrs. Pearl Wiley and Mrs. Carrie Bain were elected delegates to the state convention of Daughters of Veterans to be held the week of June 14 at Greenville, at the meeting of Harriet Beecher Stowe Tent No. 48 last evening in the Junior Order hall. The alternates are Mrs. Amanda Winey, Mrs. Hattie Crawley and Mrs. Margaret Schwendurth. One application was balloted on. The meeting was well attended.

Miss Holverstott Honored. — The honorary scholastic fraternity Phi Beta Kappa has chosen Miss Glee Holverstott a member at the spring election of the Ohio Wesleyan chapter. There were seventeen seniors elected, and the average grade which had to be attained in all work for four years was 2.60. The honor is very marked since it shows a high degree of application and study. The seventeen elected without exception, have shown themselves prominent in the university in other lines also, and so this honor comes as a fitting culmination to their college life.

Wiley S. Young Returns.—Wiley S. Young this morning returned from Washington where he has just closed a successful three weeks evangelistic campaign in the Sherwood Presbyterian church conducted by Evangelist William A. Boddell, of Bloomington, Illinois. Mr. Young was a guest at the home of his uncle Dr. A. T. Young, of Alexandria, Virginia, during his visit in the East. Mrs. Young and daughter will arrive late this afternoon from Buffalo where they were the guests of relatives enroute from Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Young expect to leave soon for Chicago, where Mr. Young will take up his preparatory study for campaign work next September.

PUT FIGHTING QUALITIES IN YOUR BLOOD

If You Are Pale and Weak, Without Ambition, You Need a Tonic.

TRY TAKING PEPTO-MANGAN

Rich, Red Blood Fights Off Disease and Keeps You Well and Enables You To Work with Pleasure.

Serious sickness often comes when you least expect. You may feel a little over-tired. You haven't been exposed to contagion, yet all of a sudden you are flat on your back and in for a siege of sickness.

Your blood did not have fighting qualities. It was weak and thin. Your vitality and powers of resistance were low.

When you overdo you use up energy. Your blood is driven to do more than it can. It becomes clogged with waste. The waste acts like poison. Disease germs get in your blood and dominate.

Don't let yourself get run-down. Take that good tonic, Pepto-Mangan. It makes rich, red blood that will resist and rout disease germs.

Pepto-Mangan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. It is effective and easy to take. Comes in either liquid or tablet form. Both have the same effect.

Sold at any drug store. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." Ask for it by name and be sure the full name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package.—Advertisement.

WHY THEY PERMIT SHOWS TO KEEP OPEN IN RUSSIA

Starved Moyjiks Rock with Laughter at Chaplin.

AMERICA'S RICHEST AND FUNNIEST MOVIE STAR

It Is Only in the Movie Houses That Russian People Ever Smile.

Herewith is printed the second of a series of articles by J. Herbert Duckworth, distinguished American correspondent, who broke into Soviet Russia without passports, by crawling under the barbed wire on the Esthonian-Russian frontier and dodging the Red guards. In this series Duckworth deals purely with the human interest side of experiences he encountered.

[BY HERBERT DUCKWORTH]

[Copyright 1921 by Select Features Company.]

I could scarcely believe my eyes one afternoon as I was walking down Koosnesiski Most, Moscow, munching my daily allowance of black bread to see displayed outside a shabby motion-picture theater a crudely-drawn picture of what was unmistakably intended to be a caricature of America's [illegible] best and funniest movie star.

It took [illegible] to decipher [illegible] Chapleen' in Russian [illegible]. I had not [illegible] mustache, that short [illegible] little coat, those baggy [illegible] that cane.

Ragged and Starved.

There was a long line of ragged and starved [illegible] Muscovites, curly-haired [illegible] Cossacks and Red Guards waiting to get into the theater. In Russia the audience is allowed [illegible] between films. When the doors are opened there is a wild rush, many of the men jumping over the backs of the seats in their mad scramble for good positions.

I joined the queue, paid out twenty-five rubles—nominally $12.50—and when the doors were flung open, was swept in with the tide of fighting Russians. I found that the seats in the [illegible] of the theater had all been reserved for the Commissars and the Red Guard.

I felt decidedly weird to be sitting there, in the heart of Red Russia five thousand miles from New York to enjoy a Chaplin film. It also seemed queer at first to think that, while the people in that audience were barely existing on half a pound of black bread and a pint of thin horse meat soup a day, they should have money enough to squander on cigarettes and the movies. But then it's easy nowadays to accumulate a roll—of paper rubles—in soviet Russia. And as there is neither food nor clothes to be bought the money, I suppose, might just as well be spent on vile-smelling 'paperosse' and the cinema.

Amid Abject Misery.

That such a seeming incongruity as picture palaces flourishing amid so much abject misery should be permitted by the soviet government is easily explained. What the circus, with its sacrifice of Christians to the lions, was to the Roman emperors, the theaters and the movies are to Lenin and Trotzky. They help to keep the masses of Red Russia from thinking too much about the utter misery of the Revolution, and of thoughts of counter revolution, by giving them the kind of amusement they like best.

But to return to Charlie Chaplin. The picture turned out to be 'The Emigrant'—a rather ancient film but in the odd surroundings of a Bolshevik theater I relished it even more than I did when it was first shown years ago.

There is not much merrymaking in Russia these days, and it was a positive pleasure to watch the bearded moujiks rocking at the antics of Charlie in the steerage, and particularly at the way in which he got a square meal for nothing in a New York restaurant. There was no hand-clapping. In Russia they think it just as absurd to show appreciation in this way as it would be to stand in front of a picture in an art gallery and cheer.

Smile in Movie House.

The only time I ever saw a smiling crowd the whole time I was in Russia was in this movie house in Moscow.

All movie shows as well as the legitimate theater, are supposed to be free to the proletariat in Red Russia. The communists maintain, and many of us will agree with them in this, at any rate, that the amusement, entertainment and instruction of the masses are the most important functions of an ideal state.

In fact when the Bolsheviks first published their program of world reform they announced that among the Soviet workers—and if you refuse to become one you can not claim the daily rations—the actor the singer, the movie star and even the poor newspaperman and the school teacher, would be paid the best. True to this promise, the salaries of these "unproductive workers" are a few more thousand rubles a month than are those of say the poor devils who sweep up the "paperossie" ends in Trotzky's office. But that does not mean much with bread at one thousand rubles—$500 at the old rate of exchange—a pound.

Great Russian Basso.

In Pskov, the first town I reached in Red Russia, I found plastered on the walls rough hand-made posters announcing that Chaliapin, the great Russian basso, was to to sing at the Pushkin theater the next night. I was informed by Commissar Gromoff the boss of the Communist party in the province of Pskov that the concert would be free to the populace.

I started [illegible] the next eve[illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] about [illegible] just [illegible] with [illegible] songs [illegible] some [illegible] with rifles [illegible] stairs [illegible] of [illegible] I got [illegible] a pass [illegible] of com[illegible] [illegible] of [illegible]. These [illegible] but to get [illegible] must have some kind of pull with the Commissars. That word 'free' has many strange meanings in Bolshevik Russia.

Follows Aimless Crowd.

I went out [illegible] the [illegible] and followed an aimless crowd which was drifting towards the [illegible] in the main street of Pskov. [illegible] the office of [illegible] a Bolshevik newspaper, a [illegible] performance was to be given. But the clocks having been pushed forward by the Bolsheviks four hours, it was [illegible] eleven o'clock before it would be dark enough to commence business. I hung around. The screen was a whitewashed patch on the brick wall of a building opposite.

The program turned out to consist largely of stills of [illegible] Trotzky, Lunarchowsky and other bolshevik leaders alternated with cable dispatches stating that revolution had broken out in the United States, in England and in France!

Bulletins from the "Labor Front" were also flashed on the wall. A large part of the army having been conscripted for work, all kinds of devices have been adopted in the attempt to popularize this unpopular phase of Bolshevism. In order to get a little more pep out of the grumbling but cowed moujiks it was thought to be a clever plan to acquaint the people with what "wonderful work" the fellows were doing in other parts of the socialistic republic. But I don't think the Pskov proletariat was fooled.

Smiled and Grunted.

Whenever a telegram appeared on the screen announcing that that day so many men, say in Yaroslav, had plougher so many acres or had chopped down so many trees, Ivan Ivanovitch just smiled and grunted remarks that, I would have been willing to bet my last pipeful of sovietsky tobacco, meant "You've got to show me," or "Tell that to Sweeney."

A crowd of some 300 watched the screen for a couple of hours, mainly because they had nothing else to do. The restaurants, the cafes and the Tractirs—tea shops—had been closed up long ago. It was little use to go home when one was not allowed under penalty of imprisonment, or even death to burn a light indoors. And, besides nobody had any food in his icebox.

The Great Imperial theater, the Little Imperial theater and the Russian Art theater in Moscow have been kept open all during the revolution. At these theaters the public is admitted to the pit and gallery by tickets given away by the People's Art council. Tickets for the rest of the house are sold at terrific prices—as high as 10,000 rubles—5,000—for an orchestra seat. But the theaters nevertheless, were invariably packed every night—the free seats by the masses and the remainder by commissars and speculators. A speculator in Russia is a profiteer—a man who buys and sells every food, for trading is the exclusive monopoly of the state. Private trading is counter revolution, or treason, punishable by death.

"Get the Cash Habit."

Daily Proverb—"It is in vain to cast nets in a river where there are no fish."

Mr. Gompers says. America will not stand for dictatorship of any sort. He probably means outside dictatorship.

It's just possible, too, that a lot of people who think that they need beer for what's ailing them in reality ought to take sarsaparilla.

It may be noted that even the European answers to Uncle Sam's notes are more direct and understandable, these days.

Attorney General Daugherty's theory that it is the duty of his department to enforce the laws is liable to strike some people as highly revolutionary.

Our memory goes back to a time when occasionally one saw a house with a "For Rent" sign on it.

Our wet friends' respect for the courts is liable to pick up somewhat since one of them has decided that a man's hip pocket is immune to search and seizure.

All kinds of bad weather have been predicted for May, but let's not worry. Many a sleepless night has been suffered worrying about things that never came to pass.

But if we let people like "Big Bill" Haywood escape to Russia will not even soviet Russia have a real ground for complaint against us?

One simply can not help sitting up and taking notice when Professor Einstein gets down to plain, understandable statements like "relativity relinquishes the absoluteness of simultaneity."

A well-informed citizen of far beyond the average experience in the raising of fruits tells us that the recent frosts didn't do even a small part of the damage to fruits alleged. Are we to believe that these "fruits killed by frost" stories were largely price-raising propaganda?

FOR SIMPLER TAXATION SYSTEM.

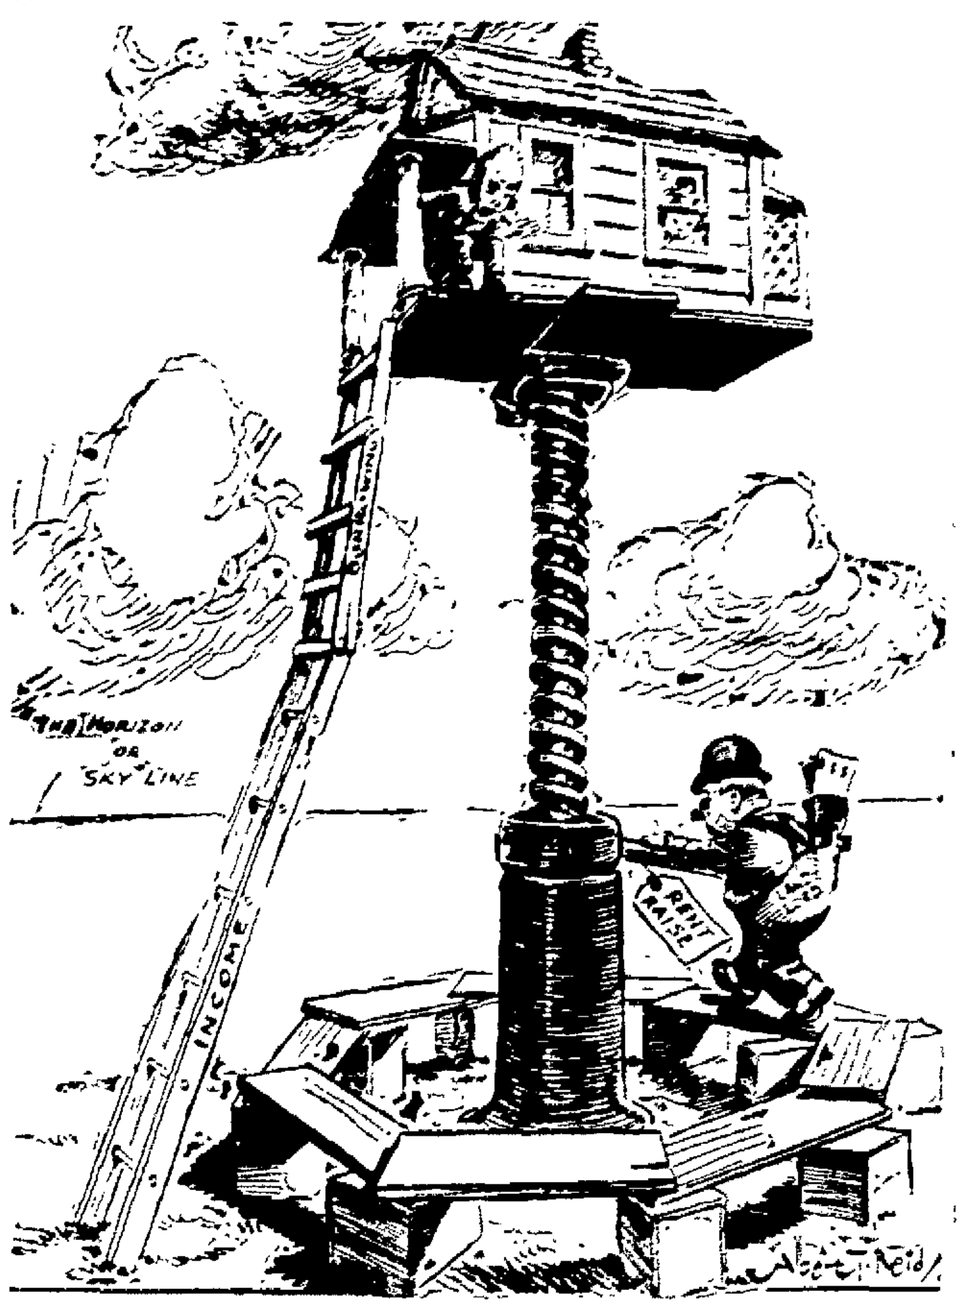
No subject before congress is having more intensive study than the question of taxation. Even the tariff takes second place. Most citizens of the United States realize that they must bear their share of the war burden for a period of years, but they are properly insisting upon a more equitable distribution of the load. The excess profits taxes have discouraged initiative and there is no doubt that these will be eliminated and some tax substituted which will not be so burdensome in its operation.

The plan of imposing a sales tax seems to be meeting with wide favor throughout the country. This tax, it is intended, will remove the guess work, worry and uncertainty of the present tax system. It is also held that it will produce about $4,000,000,000 annually. The National Council of Traveling Salesmen, representing 900,000 traveling men, has come out in a strong endorsement of the sales tax on account of its simplicity. These salesmen represent practically every industry in America and have no special interest to further beyond the improvement of general business conditions.

There is no room for doubting that the people will not be satisfied until the present complicated system of taxation is remedied. Those who favor the sales tax as against the impossible excess profits tax, argue that the simplicity tax proposed is a tax that reduces the burden upon rich and poor alike and results in saving hundreds of millions of dollars annually.

The plan is to levy a one per cent tax on all sales of services or commodities. This exempts all small farmers and practically every laboring man—those least able to pay any sort of tax. At the same time it will prevent the present handicap to business caused by the withdrawal of large fortunes from industry and their investment in tax-exempt securities. Every business man will know each month exactly what is due the government and the amount will be so small that it will either be absorbed in the overhead or passed along to the consumer in a moderate increase in the price the public pays. A sales tax will liquidate our enormous war debts and the American people will forget their present tax worries and be able to give entire attention to business.

FARTHER UP IN THE CLOUDS



FOR AN AMERICAN DAY.

Hundreds of thousands of patriotic Americans will heartily endorse the plan to make May 1 permanently "American" day, the one particular day when patriotism and loyalty to national ideals will be impressed upon all. The American Defense society has undertaken to lead in the movement to make the first day of May an effective rebuke to the various forms of anarchy which are seeking to use the day to advance their attempts to overthrow the government.

"May 1 can be advantageously utilized as the occasion of a program of public activities," a bulletin of the society says, "as well as to show how we can preserve our Americanism against the sinister infiltration of anarchy and lawlessness; also to afford an opportunity for all patriotic citizens to reconsecrate themselves to the ideals and institutions of our nation, and to pledge their unqualified support to all those things that have made us a great and united people."

The only way that dangerous radical teaching can be overcome is by instruction in Americanism for the aliens and the exhortation to more emphatic Americanism on the part of citizens. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." This statement was probably never nearer the truth than at the present time. The enemies of organized government were never more persistent in their efforts, although they may be more secretive than in times past.

The forces which threaten our government today are symbolized by the red flag, whether they marshal in the name of communism, industrial workers of the world or bolshevism. They stand for one and the same thing—a deep-seated conspiracy against civilization. This is no time for hesitation. A mobilization of patriotic Americans on May 1 will be a great discouragement to the disloyal propaganda.

Every citizen should give his support to the program of the various patriotic organizations which will stand back of the observance of May 1 as "American" day. The day falls on Sunday this year, and ministers and teachers of all religious creeds may well call attention of their followers to the importance of education along patriotic lines. There can be no true religion without obedience to the reasonable regulations for the safety of society.

Then too it's our guess that the people who get prescriptions for medicinal beer will take it in rather [illegible] doses.

"Why not have a triple alliance in America between employers, employes and the public?" asks the Boston Transcript, apparently without stopping to consider that such a combination wouldn't leave anybody to [illegible] the rest.

After Mrs. Catt's exhortation to those good women up in Cleveland, "Let us be a [illegible] [illegible]," it's hard to see how the [illegible] can be barred longer from membership in [illegible] the union.

TO FLY ACROSS PACIFIC

It is announced that the United States navy is having constructed a huge seaplane for a flight across the Pacific. It is to carry a crew of twelve men, will have a maximum speed of [illegible] miles an hour and be capable of flying [illegible] miles without fuel replenishment. It has been demonstrated by other feats of aviation that the flight is possible. If, therefore, the attempt should result in failure it will be due to some unexpected mishap. Confidence will be expressed that the voyage will be a success. Indeed, it almost amounts to a certainty, according to naval air authorities; and so, as a sporting event it is hardly likely to attract as much interest as the flight of the NC-4 across the Atlantic.

The transpacific voyage will [illegible] be more difficult than the other, since the program calls for a jump of 2,200 miles—from San Diego to Honolulu—whereas the longest lap of the transatlantic trip was only [illegible] miles, from Nova Scotia to the Azores.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

[By James Ball Naylor]

ONE GOOD TURN DESERVES ANOTHER.

The manner in which the various governments of Europe—and certain dreamy journalists, self-assumed statesmen, and vain and vapid humanitarians, in this country—continue to ask us to do more and ever more for the European peoples reminds me of the ancient yarn about the gratitude of the tramp who made a second call upon the farmer's wife.

The tramp called at the back door of the farmhouse one day, and begged for a handout. The good-hearted woman granted the vagrant's request. The fellow profusely expressed his gratitude, and took his departure—without offering to do any work in return for the largesse he had received.

A few days later the same stroller put in an appearance at the farmhouse. The farmer's wife rather eyed him askance: but the knight of the highroad, with a suavity begotten of much practice, doffed his battered head-piece and thus smoothly accosted the woman:

"Madam, a few days ago I passed this way and stopped at this door. I was weary and in need of food. You kindly fed me."

He paused to note the effect of his words.

"Yes?" the farm-wife murmured, in a tone bordering on tartness.

"I have returned to offer you further thanks for your kindness," the tramp went on. "I believe in gratitude, and I believe in showing it."

The woman's manner softened perceptibly. Perhaps she had a vision of the pilgrim from Vagabondia toiling at the adjacent woodpile. So she managed to utter rather graciously.

"Well?"

"I hold that one good turn deserves another," said the tramp.

"So do I," heartily agreed the woman.

"In that case, madam," smilingly observed the smooth rascal, "give me another hand-out."

From an editorial in Life, I quote:

Europe is much annoyed because we do not take a [illegible] harder to help out the world. Sir Philip Gibbs declares that the future of the world depends upon the leadership that it is able to get from the present administration in this country. He wants President Harding to get right in again with the rest of mankind.

Certainly!

Why not?

Europe wants America to get right in again—get back in the shafts—and do all the pulling.

Europe will ride—and direct the way.

One good turn deserves another!

Europe wants America to be the leader.

[illegible]

And Europe will pull the lines over the back of the leader.

The [illegible] of nations will load the cart with all the territory Germany has lost, with all the reparations money, with all the material advantages and commercial opportunities made promises in the war—and have America haul the cart—and [illegible] take a free ride.

Fine scheme, [illegible] prospect—for Europe!

Get in the shafts, America.

[illegible] Giddap!

One good turn deserves another!

Live. Think. Work. Advises Chauncey M. Depew at 87 Years

"Live moderately, think moderately, work moderately, and enjoy your fellow man and woman." That is the advice of Chauncey M. Depew, veteran statesman, and known as the world's champion after-dinner story teller, who has just passed the grand age of eighty-seven. Mr. Depew, who is still at work as chairman of the board of directors of the New York Central railroad, is young—younger in appearance and actions than he has been in twenty-five years. He admits he feels younger than he did in 1897. "I ascribe my good physical condition to having faith," said Mr. Depew. "I got my religious faith from my mother. I retain that faith because my mother taught me fundamental principles of religious practices, so that my belief has never been shaken by anything I have seen in seventy years I have been active in public affairs." Mr. Depew said he had succeeded in getting a "good start" in life, and that it is his ambition to live a century.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE

XVI.—TENNESSEE

The history of Tennessee stretches back to the year 1541 when De Soto with his party of Spanish adventurers probably reached the present site of Memphis on the Mississippi. The French under La Salle built a fort here about 1682. The English also laid claim to this territory, including it in the grant to North Carolina. It was not until 1770 that the first permanent settlement was made by James Robertson and this was soon followed by many other settlers from North Carolina. They formed what they called the Washington district, but this was short lived as it was promptly annexed to North Carolina. In 1784 the inhabitants, indignant over North Carolina's attitude toward them, declared their independence and formed the State of Franklin or Frankland. As this secession was not countenanced by North Carolina, for a number of years a state of confusion existed with two sets of officers trying to govern. Meanwhile the settlement suffered severely from hostile Indians and from the Spanish, who still held Louisiana and controlled the Mississippi river. In 1790 North Carolina finally ceded this territory to the United States. By 1796 the population had increased to over 60,000, so Tennessee was admitted as the sixteenth state of the Union.

At the outbreak of the Civil war, Tennessee joined the Confederacy. In 1866, when the state was readmitted to the Union, there was much disorder during the reconstruction period. This led to the formation of the Ku Klux Klan, the influence of which quickly spread throughout the Southern states. This secret organization took into its own hands the suppression of crime and the administration of justice.

Tennessee contains 42,022 square miles, and is sometimes called the Volunteer state. It is named after its principal river, which is a Cherokee word meaning "Crooked River" or "bend in the river."

Hanna's Green Seal Liquid Paint

"Some Reasons Why"
Good painters like to do good work. They are as much interested as the property-owner in seeing that the paint they put on looks good and wears well. The fact means much, therefore, that many painters always use Hanna's Green Seal Paint on every house painting job. They find that produces the right results. It imparts a beautiful glossy finish; it wears well; it forms a durable film that covers the surface thoroughly without brush marks showing; and every gallon spreads out over a wide area.
HANNA'S GREEN-SEAL PAINT
In the long run Green Seal is the brand most economical to use on your property.

ORDINANCE REGULATING GARBAGE COLLECTION

Recommended to Council by Health Commssioner.

WHO SUGGESTS LICENSES AND UNIFORM PRICES

T. E. Hunter Named by Council To Serve on Memorial Day Committee.

A number of petitions, resolutions and ordinances were acted on at the meeting of the city council, Monday night, the work being completed in short time, there being nothing of such importance as to bring up discussion of much length.

Health Commissioner C. M Tobin made a written recommendation that council pass an ordinance to regulate the collection of garbage in the city. It was his opinion that the city be divided into four sections and that a license fee be fixed for haulers of garbage and a uniform price established. He suggested that the council meet as a body with the board of health later in the week to further consider the proposition

Another Big Bond Issue.

An ordinance was adopted providing for the issuing of bonds in the sum of $216,160 in anticipation of the collection of special assessments or various street improvements. Another ordinance was adopted providing for an issue of bonds in the sum of $30,345, to pay the city's portion of street improvements.

An ordinance to proceed with the paving of Uncapher avenue, from Bennett street to Bellefontaine avenue, was read three times and adopted.

A resolution was adopted providing for the construction of a sidewalk on the east side of Fies avenue from Bennett street to York street. The Marion Overland company was authorized by a resolution to install a gasoline station in front of the garage at No. 134 south Prospect street.

More Sewer Work.

A petition for a sanitary sewer and storm sewer on Patterson street from Fairground street to Mark street, and on Mark street, from Ballentine avenue to Greenwood street, was referred to the sewer committee.

A petition for a sidewalk on the west side of Pennsylvania avenue from the terminus of the present walk to Mt. Vernon avenue, was referred to the street-and-alley committee. A petition for a walk on the east side of Lincoln avenue, from Mark street to Adams street and on the north side of Adams street from Lincoln avenue to Barnhart street, was also referred to the committee.

A petition for the extension of the water mains on Latourette street from Bennett street to Brown avenue, was referred to the waterworks committee.

The council received an invitation to take part in the Memorial day parade and appoint a representative to serve on the general committee. T. E. Hunter was appointed to represent the council on the committee

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO ELECTRICITY CONSUMERS

Electricity will be off next Sunday for about an hour and a half beginning at 12 o'clock noon. We regret this interruption very much, but it is necessary in order to enable us to cut in new apparatus we are installing and which will connect us up to our new Power Station at Scioto. We hope this will be the only complete interruption and expect to be using our Scioto Plant by June 1.

Few people understand that there are day trusses and night trusses. The direction of pressure must be very different when standing and working from what it is when lying down and resting. The Elastic Truss is a night truss. It presses straight away from its connections and fails the working man who requires an upward and inward pressure. The steel truss delivers this pressure but not as it comes from the factory. CHIRRUP! CHIRRUP! BIRD HOUSES HERE

"Who are these boys in khaki who are acting as carpenters and making our new spring homes?" inquired a busy mother robin, as she paused in the midst of weaving straws and mud together in the form of a nest.

Father Robin was having his hands full battling a silent duel with an unusually aggressive worm, but, having finally come off the victor, he paused long enough to answer:

"My! But that's unusual in boys. My stars! Last year it was my greatest worry dodging youngsters and keeping the nest hid from pesky humans. Seems funny to me they should change so quickly."

"Wa-a-ll," drawled the head of the house, as he raised a leg and scratched his head "These seem to be a higher order of humans Instead of destroying us, they seem to want to help us out. Of course, the human race is much inferior to us birds, and I suppose they are given to changeful moods; but, as long as they feel that way, we might as well reciprocate by rearing our young in the new houses this year."

"I was talking to Mrs. Wren this morning," went on Mother Robin, who was really the gossip of the neighborhood, "and she told me that Mrs. Bluejay told her that Mrs. Bluebird had said that Mrs. Sparrow, who lives near the hospital, told Mrs Woodpecker that the boys are putting up new houses all over town. I think I'll pick out a good house before the rush starts I do want to get a better house than that horrid Mrs. Bluebird You stay here now and finish this nest."

And away she flew.

"Gosh!" ejaculated Mr. Robin, as he meekly started to do his wife's bidding, "These humans can thank their lucky stars they are never henpecked by wives."

Then he added, reminiscently, "My! but those Boy Scouts are sure a blessing to us birds here in Marion. But their grownups appreciate their worth."

DREAM TABLET HANDED JOE DILLON IN FIFTH

George Reichel, Cleveland, Gets Clean Knockout.

BIG ARMORY CROWD SEES FAST MILLING

Reichel Tips Scales at 129 Pounds and Dillon Is About Two Pounds Heavier.

[BY FRED J. KRAMER.]

George Reichel, of Cleveland, defended his title as amateur champion of his class by administering an anaesthetic in the form of a right to the jaw of Joe Dillon, of Columbus, in the fifth round of their scheduled twelve-round bout, the main go at the Eagles' boxing show, Monday night, at the armory.

A crowd which well filled the armory was treated to one of the best boxing shows ever staged in the city and not the least dissatisfaction was expressed by any of the attendants. They were treated to some fast and classy work from the start of the curtain raiser to the knockout in the main bout, and the promoters are to be congratulated for giving such an entertainment.

Reichel tipped the scales at 129 pounds at 3 o'clock and Dillon was a trifle less than two pounds heavier. In the opening round Reichel drew blood from Dillon by a few straight arm jabs to his mouth, but the milling in the first and second rounds was about even. Dillon forced the fighting fast in the third round and had a good shade at the end of the round.

Fresh and Strong.

Reichel came back fresh and strong in the fourth round and landed some hard blows on Dillon's face, which increased the flow of blood from the cut in the mouth. Dillon was given a fast working in the round and appeared a little worn toward the finish, this being Reichel's round by a shade. In the fifth round both boxers worked fast for two minutes and a half and Dillon seemed to be getting stronger as he sent Reichel away from him with a body blow.

Reichel started back and after a feint left to the body, he landed a right swing to Dillon's jaw which took him off his feet and laid him on the canvas for several minutes, while his seconds jumped into the ring and worked to revive him.

Eight-Round Semi-Final.

The eight-round semi-final between Eddie Conrad, of Cleveland, and Jakie Mollman, of Columbus, went the full route and the judges disagreeing, Referee Nick Albanese declared the match a draw, although the fans were in the majority for Conrad. Conrad weighed a trifle over 116 and Mellman weighed 120, the latter looking much heavier than his opponent.

Conrad started forcing the fighting and landed some hard blows, missing a KO near the close of the round, while Mellman finished strong and the honors were even. In the second round Conrad drew blood from Mellman's mouth and it was Conrad's round. The little fellow showed lightning speed and fought himself out of the tight places by returning two for one. Honors were even in the third and fifth rounds, while the popular decision gave Conrad a shade of the fourth, sixth and seventh rounds. The boxers went fast and furious in the final round, exchanging some hard punches to the face and body. This was an even round, Conrad appearing a bit fresher than his opponent at the close

Preliminary Bout.

The preliminary between Jimmie Serra, of Columbus, and Johnnie Gerry, of Marion, which was scheduled for six rounds, ended fifteen seconds before the end of the first round when Harry Sully, the manager of Serra, tossed the sponge into the ring. Gerry weighed 126, his opponent being six pounds lighter. It was a lightning bout as long as it lasted, Serra opening the milling by a swing to Gerry's face and starting to rain blows on his opponent. Gerry adopted the same tactics as his opponent and soon was whipping his opponent about the ring, flooring him twice, the last time with a solar plexus blow which dazed Serra for a time and caused his second to throw in the sponge.

In the four-round curtain raiser between Indian Holland, of Lima, and Bobby Powers, of Newark, the judges gave Holland the decision. The first and second rounds were even, both exchanging some hard swings to the face and body. Holland had his opponent on the defense the third round and made him keep covered, while he landed some upper cuts and forced Powers to go into a clinch often to save himself. Holland took the fourth round by a big margin and hit Powers almost at will.

MINARD CHOSEN CAPTAIN OF HIGH SCHOOL QUINTET

Unanimous Choice of Last Season's Letter-Men.

Last evening, this season's lettermen of the Harding High school basket-ball team unanimously elected Newell Minard for the captaincy of next season's five. Minard, who played center this year, was a first-seasoner, but he played like a veteran and showed so much stuff that he met the approval of all when it came to picking next year's cage leader. Minard is good both on offense and defense, has ability as a floor man and, along with Griffin and Burdette, the two other lettermen returning next season, will form the nucleus of what should be a good team next year. The school will feel the absence of Captain Knachel and Phillian, the other two regulars on this year's outfit, who will don the cap and gown this spring. Both are aces in the sport and held down the forward positions. Knachel proved to be an excellent floor man as well as a splendid leader, while Phillian was high scorer of the team and one of the best foul shooters in the state. However, despite the loss of these two men, Captain-elect Minard and his men, school officials believe, will afford ample sport for local fans next season. The Marionites, from all appearances, will make a strong bid for North Central league honors in the coming season.

With this idea in mind he con- ted physicians, made experiments d finally compounded a prescrip- n that quickly and completely nished every sign and symptom of eumatism from his system.

GARIS' BEDTIME STORIES

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE POSTAGE STAMPS.

[BY HOWARD R. GARIS.]

[Copyright 1921, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

"My goodness, Nurse Jane! What are you doing now?" asked Uncle Wiggily one morning, as he slid down the banisters of his hollow stump bungalow to get his breakfast. Of course, I don't mean to say that all rabbit gentlemen slide down banisters. And Uncle Wiggily never would have done so except that Dr. Possum told him it might help cure his rheumatism.

"What are you doing, Nurse Jane?" asked the bunny again. And no wonder he inquired! For Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper, sat at a table which was almost covered with pink envelopes and paper, and she was scribbling away as fast as she could.

"I am sending out invitations for another tea party," Nurse Jane answered. "Every one so enjoyed my first, where you brought pitcher plants to hold the milk, water and molasses, that they asked me to give a second. I'm sending out the invitations now. But you'll have to help me, Wiggy, if you please?"

"Do you want me to pour tea or molasses?" asked the bunny gentleman, as he sat down to his breakfast of fried carrot pancakes with maple sugar gravy sprinkled down the middle.

"I want you to get me some postage stamps, so I can mail these invitations," said Nurse Jane. "Finish your breakfast and hop to the postoffice like a good rabbit. When you come back with the stamps I'll have finished my writing and you may help me stick the stamps on the envelopes."

"That will be fun!" laughed Uncle Wiggily and he hurried to finish his meal. He did not hurry too much, you understand, for that is not polite. But he hurried just enough and soon he was hopping away over the fields and through the woods toward the animal postoffice.

This postoffice was kept by an old owl gentleman who lived in a hollow tree. And there was a hole in that tree, just like a little window in the regular postoffice. Out of this hole Mr. Owl passed letters and sold stamps.

"I want a lot of your very best stickum stamps, Mr. Owl Postmaster," said Uncle Wiggily, hopping up to the window.

"Here you are!" hooted the owl, as he passed out some little green leaves covered on one side with dried, sticky gum from the pine tree. The bits of leaves were cut exactly in the shape of our green penny postage stamps, and as the gum was dry it did not stick to Uncle Wiggily's paws.

"But the stamps will stick on Nurse Jane's invitations as soon as she wets the gum a little bit," said the owl bird.

"I'm going to help do that," Uncle Wiggily remarked.

Hopping along back through the woods, the bunny gentleman was careful to keep the green leaf postage stamps dry, so they would not stick to his paws.

"I want a lot of your very best stickum stamps"

All of a sudden, as Mr. Longears was hopping along, he heard a rustling in the bushes behind him and, turning around, he saw the bad old Blue-nosed Baboon skipping out.

"One moment, if you please, Uncle Wiggily!" cried the Baboon. "You have something I want!"

"Why, the idea! I have not!" answered the bunny rabbit, and he thought of Nurse Jane's stamps. "What can you want of them?" he asked.

"With what?' inquired the Baboon.

"Stamps," replied the bunny. "You aren't going to send out invitations to any tea party, are you?"

"I should say not!" grunted the Baboon. "What I want is a nibble or two of your ears. Stand still now until I get it!"

Uncle Wiggily had come to a stop near a spring of water, and when the Baboon hopped toward him the bunny had an idea that he might push the blue-nosed chap into the spring and get away while he was floundering there. But as Uncle Wiggily thought of the sticky postage stamps he decided on a better plan.

With a sudden motion he dipped a lot of the stamps in the spring of water, taking care that the Baboon did not see him. And then, with the sheet of stamps all wet and sticky, the bunny held them out to the unpleasant creature.

"If you're going to nibble my ears, hold these!" said Uncle Wiggily, who had hold the edge of the stamps, where there was no pine tree gum.

Before he quite knew what he was doing, the Baboon took the stamps, imagining, I suppose, they might be good to eat. But he had no sooner taken a firm hold than he found his left paw all stuck up. He tried to pull off the stamps with his right paw, but that, too, stuck to the sticky leaves. Then the Bab's right foot was stuck, and his left also, and Uncle Wiggily laughed.

"Oh, botheration!" suddenly cried the Blue-nosed Baboon. "I'm too stuck up to nibble your ears, bunny rabbit!"

"I'm glad of it" said Mr. Longears. Back he hopped to the hollow tree to get more stamps for Nurse Jane, and this time nothing happened. As for the Bab he was nearly a week getting un-stuck. The tea party was perfectly lovely.

JUBILEE'S PARDNER

by Judd Mortimer Lewis

Illustrations by Edwina

When I had let Jubilee down by the rope in his teeth this morning and milked the cow and her dotter and give Jubilee a lot of squirts he felt pretty good and looked like he was glad he was my dog, adn he ought to be.

When we was eating breakfast my grandfather said he wished that we lived some place where he could plant a garden. I bet he does. He would like to catch fish all day for me to clean and then stand out in a garden and tell me how to pull the weeds out of it. I bet it is a good thing my grandfather won the war, but if he had of got killed we would of all had a slave maybe and I could make him milk the cows and clean the fish.

I walked up near it real careful and it kept watching me and I kept watching it.

I asted my mother if she did not think we would have a slave now if my grandfather had got killed in the war, and she said if my gradfather had got killed in the war we would not have anything and we would not be here and when I asted her why we wouldn't she said because my grandfather was not married before he went to war. I bet that would not keep me from being I could get along without my grandfather. I did before he come to board at our house.

When school was out Youniss asted us if we did not all want to come down to Maggie's the girl which got fascinated on her leg so it would not show house. So we all went down there and some other girls went along and we had a pretty good time playing tag and Maggie's mother sent for some ice cream.

We was all going in the house and all at once Youniss gave a scream and there was a spotty adder laying in the walk where it had crawled out from under the step to be in the sun and it was all kinda twisted up in a little bunch with its head at the top. Everybody hollered to get a stick and I walked up near it real careful and it kept watching me and I kept watching it; and I was just getting ready to reach out quick and grab it, when Maggie's mother hollered, "Don't do that, you little fool!" so then I jumped on it and smashed it.

Then everybody talked about the snake for a while and then Maggie's mother began to pass the ice cream around and I said I did not want any, and she said why didn't I, and I said there could not any woman feed me ice cream with one hand and call me a fool with the other, and I was going home. So me and Jubilee went and none of the bunch come with us because they had not et their ice cream.

We went around the corner and sot down with our backs against the fence and wished we hadn't come. If it had not of be n for her hollering I would have had a real pelson snake. All a feller needs to do to grab a snake is to be quicker than the snake is. I bet I am. When I was going in the barn door my ant hollered and asted me what made the seat of my pants so shiny. I did not answer. It was the butter I got at Banty's.

FIFTEEN MEN IN THE FEDERAL COURT

Charged with Violation of a Federal Injunction.

Huntington, West Virginia, April 26.—All of the fifteen defendants, including C. F. Keeney and Fred Mooney, officials of the United Mine Workers of America and Sid. Hatfield, former chief of police of Matewan, in the case of the Red Jacket Consolidated coal company against the mine workers' union, are expected to be arraigned in Charleston, in June, on charges of violation of a federal injunction under terms of an order to be entered in United States court here, yesterday, by Judge C. A. Woods.

Attorneys are disagreed as to the terms of the proposed order and each side will submit an order differing textually, but designed to carry out Judge Woods' intentions as announced from the bench.

At the outset of the trial, Judge Woods divided the case into two phases. One phase, that which involved charges of disobedience of the injunction by unlawful acts, he permitted to be heard by a jury. The jury returned a verdict of guilty, as to five defendants and not guilty, as to two defendants.

Take It In Time !

DO you know that by far the larger number of the common ailments of women are not surgical ones; that is they are not caused by any serious displacement, tumor, growth, or other marked change?

DO you know that these common ailments produce symptoms that are very much like those caused by the more serious surgical conditions?

DO you know that many women and young girls suffer needlessly from such ailments? More than that, they endanger their health by allowing their ailments to continue and develop into something serious.

If treated early, that is, within a reasonable time after the first warning symptoms appear, serious conditions may often be averted. Therefore, at the first appearance of such symptoms as periodic pains, irregularities, irritability and nervousness, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken. It is prepared with accuracy and cleanliness from medicinal plants. It contains no narcotics nor poisonous drugs, and can be taken with perfect safety.

The Vegetable Compound acts on the conditions which bring about these symptoms in a gentle and efficient manner. The persistent use of it shows itself in the disappearance, one after another, of the disagreeable symptoms. In a word, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound acts as a natural restorative, relieving the present distress and preventing more serious trouble.

CUPATION OF RUHR DISTRICT

Germany's latest indemnity proposals, now in the hands of the American state department have not been made public. France today issued her plans for occupation of the German Ruhr district as a penalty to enforce the original reparations demands of the allies.

French experts departed for London this morning, to discuss further details of the plans for occupation of the Ruhr district. The French have taken strong hope from Premier Lloyd George's announcement in the British parliament, yesterday, that Great Britain will support France in the occupation of the Ruhr district if the German indemnity proposals prove unsatisfactory.

It has been definitely decided that the supreme council will meet in London Saturday. The meeting probably will last four or five days, owing to the importance of the vast problems under discussion. The first question to be taken up will be German reparations and it is probable that the council also will discuss the Silesian plebiscite. Near East questions and possibly the Yap mandate.

There is a possibility that the allied reply to the latest American note to France and Great Britain concerning the Yap island will be drafted at the meeting.

France, it is learned, is prepared to seize the German coal mines in the Ruhr district upon an hour's notice in the event that the German indemnity proposals are deemed unacceptable.

The Minute Man of the Oil Industry

THOUGH little known and seldom seen the line walker, who follows the course of the crude often through hundreds of miles of pipe from oil well to refinery, is essential to the success of the oil industry. As the "minute man" of the pipe line his service typifies the vigilance exercised in the manufacture of petroleum products.

Every foot of the pipe line is patrolled by the line walker. On the lookout for leaks he travels back and forth over that section for which he is responsible. His picturesque dress is reminiscent of those pioneer days when adventurous drillers roamed the hills of Pennsylvania.

The spirit of steadfast vigilance as exemplified by the line walker runs through every avenue of this organization. The loyal thoroughness of all workers and the knowledge gained in fifty years of refining and marketing have eliminated all "leaks" that might tend to lessen the quality of products or service.

In the manufacture of Red Crown Gasoline this experience is linked with a 20-year study of automotive needs. The result is a uniform, dependable product with a complete chain of boiling points that gives full power at every engine speed.

For dependable lubrication—Polarine Oil, Medium and Heavy, Polarine Transmission Lubricants and Polarine Cup Grease. Fill at the Red Crown Sign—Service Stations and Garages.

Women Magistrates

MRS. E. L. BALDWIN

Every city of any size now has its women attorneys, but the election or appointment of women to the bench is still rare enough to attract wide attention. San Francisco boasts of Mrs. E. L. Baldwin, who is the "ex-officio judge" of her juvenile court. Mrs. Baldwin has a reputation of tempering justice with mercy in deciding the cases before her. A regular judge passes upon Mrs. Baldwin's decisions.
